Hello!

I always think a good Christian school teacher is not only a Bible teacher but also one who helps students to integrate all subjects with Biblical teaching. CCS can truly help students transfer book knowledge into practical application for their daily lives. I believe it is a good environment for me to serve God, to help the students, and to learn as well.

I have good social skills with children; I am able to make connections with them easily, and I also have the ability to think from their point of view. I not only share my experience with them in relation to lessons that I might teach, but I also can be a good listener. In return, the students are willing to share their concerns and struggles with me.
