Hello!

I was introduced to the Gospel when I was around 4 years old, but did not understand it until I reached middle school. I then decided to start reading the New Testament on my own, and started urging my parents to take me to church. After attending church in Garden Grove, CA for over two years, I decided to become a member and to be baptized in front of the church I attended at that time.

I have felt that teaching is a calling for several years, and the idea of being able to influence and help young people always appealed to me. After attending college and earning my credential after student teaching, I substituted and did not feel that I was making a difference because I could not form personal bonds with students of various classes that were not my own. It was around this time that Eurie Kim introduced me to the idea of teaching at Chinese Christian Schools, and I applied very shortly thereafter.
