Hello!

I love teaching children, so I decided to be a teacher. I have a deep love for children. I also receive joy and satisfaction when I see children learn. I feel I have been gifted in being able to understand a child's or class' level and be able to teach new ideas that they can grasp. I am interested in learning new things, and I am able to share the love of learning with my students.

I felt that God was leading me to teach in a Christian school. I heard about CCS but thought one had to at least speak Chinese to work there. I finally got in contact with the school and applied for an elementary teaching position. I received a position teaching third grade, and the staff was very encouraging and supportive.

I have seen grace poured out on the students and faculty, and over the past three years I have had no doubt that this is where God has called me to teach at this present time in my life.
