Hello!

Growing up, I realized the great influence and impact a teacher can have on his or her students. As I thought and prayed about my future career, God grew in my heart an interest in teaching and love for building relationships with young students. Working at CCS summer school in 2007 confirmed and grew my desires to teach. I am thankful for the opportunities God has given me since then to work with students, not only academically, but emotionally and spiritually as well.
