Hello!

I believe the Lord has given me the gift of teaching. With this gift comes a commitment to lifelong learning, and a responsibility to reach students through an energizing, interactive, and supportive environment.

Although I had once considered mechanical engineering as my major, a love for seeing students succeed far surpassed all other possibilities of joy. After studying Mathematics Education at Pensacola Christian College, I am continuing my education through Liberty University where I will earn a Master's of Education. In addition, I continue to develop professionally through mathematics and science workshops. Yet, it is my great love for students and their educational success that inspires and motivates me to serve as a teacher.
