Hello!

I love children and love to see them grow and learn. I am a fairly organized person who enjoys learning and transmitting knowledge.

Ever since I was in kindergarten, I wanted to be a teacher. I prepared to become one in my course of study at Mills College. After student teaching at the inner-city Bret Harte Junior High, I knew I could not begin a teaching career right away because I found I could not love each of my students. I needed a break and took a 14-year one.

I still wanted to teach, however, and had loved the years of teaching Sunday School and working with young people as a high school co-sponsor in our church's youth group. It was only after having children of my own that I felt "I'm ready" to try teaching again. There was a need for a fifth grade teacher, and I was asked to fill that position. I have not regretted it! It is a great privilege to serve at Chinese Christian Schools, which is a ministry of the church that I grew up in and love.
