The Course Description:

Mandarin one is an introduction course for students who would like to learn Chinese. Through the course, students will master the pinyin, radicals, and stroke order. Students also will master the basic listening, speaking, reading and writing skills. This year, over a span of six units, we will focus on school, classmates and teacher; hanging out with friends; my family and I; four seasons of the year; food and clothing; and sport and health.

Students are assessed frequently in listening, speaking, reading and writing throughout the whole year. Students will be assessed in character-handwriting skill, vocabulary usage, expressive abilities and listening and comprehension skill.
